Laws on Electricity:

New legal framework for the electricity industry

After nearly 20 years of implementation and 4 amendments, the practice of implementing electricity laws shows that there are still some issues that Electricity Law 2004 could not resolve.

To create a synchronous and feasible legal framework for electricity activities and investments in the electricity sector, and to overcome difficulties in implementation of the Electricity Law 2004, a new Electricity Law was passed on 30 November 2024 and took effect on 1 February 2025 (“Electricity Law 2024”).

Highlights of the Electricity Law 2024

In general, the Electricity Law 2024 regulates planning for electricity development, investments in electricity project construction; development of renewable energy and new energy; electricity operation licenses; competitive electricity market, electricity trading activities; dispatch and operation of the national electricity system; protection of electricity construction works and safety in the electricity sector; responsibilities, rights and obligations of agencies, organizations and individuals in electricity activities and electricity use; State management of electricity.

Below are some notable new points of the Electricity Law 2024:

No.	Highlight	Interpretation
1	Applying market mechanisms to electricity prices; direct electricity sale mechanism	Electricity prices will be implemented according to market mechanisms with prices regulated by the State. Electricity purchase and sale can be through direct power purchase agreements (DPPA), electricity term contracts, electricity purchase or sale options, electricity future contracts between electricity sellers and electricity buyers. The winning bid price of electricity will be the maximum electricity price for the electricity buyer to negotiate with the winning investor.
2	Gradually reducing and eventually eliminating cross-subsidy in	Retail electricity prices will be implemented according to a reasonable and gradually decreasing price structure, moving towards eliminating cross-subsidy of electricity prices between customer groups which do not participate in the competitive retail electricity market when they are not eligible to participate or do not choose to participate in buying and selling

	retail electricity prices between customer groups	electricity on the competitive retail electricity market. The right of the parties to decide on electricity purchase price and selling price will be guaranteed on the basis of not exceeding the electricity price frame and retail electricity price structure prescribed for by the State. Electricity prices are guaranteed to be implemented publicly, transparently, equally, and without discrimination between electricity units.
3	Investment and financial incentives for investors (domestic and foreign) in construction of power sources and power grids, and electricity business	Applying investment, financial and other incentives and support to domestic and foreign organizations and individuals in construction of power sources and power grids, and in electricity business. The Electricity Law 2024 clearly states that all economic sectors are encouraged to participate in investing in construction of power sources and power grids according to the planning for electricity development, the power supply network development plan in the provincial-level planning, the plan to implement the planning for electricity development, power generation, power distribution, electricity wholesale, and electricity retail activities; non-State economic sectors are allowed to operate the power grids which they have invested in and constructed according to the provisions of law.
4	Encouraging investments in developing renewable energy and new energy projects	Encouraging investment in developing renewable energy projects, new energy, power plants using fossil fuels to switch to low-emission fuel sources, installation of equipment and carbon capture systems to reduce emissions into the environment; developing coal-fired thermal power at a reasonable level in the direction of prioritizing large-capacity, high-efficiency units using advanced, modern technology; ensuring compliance with environmental protection laws.
5	Nuclear power development	Adding the nuclear power development policy; accordingly, the planning for development of nuclear power will be closely linked, synchronized, and consistent with the master plan for electricity development, and ensuring the safety of nuclear power plants according to the provisions of the Energy Law.

Guiding legal documents

To create a synchronous legal framework, just a very short time after the Electricity Law 2024 came into effect, a series of legal documents providing guidelines for implementation of the Electricity Law 2024 has synchronously been issued (which previously somehow took a long time to achieve):

Adjustment of Power Planning VIII

Along with the synchronization of the legal framework for power activities, after many proposals for amendments and adjustments, on 15 April 2025, the Prime Minister issued Decision No. 768/QĐ-TTg, approving the adjustment of the Planning for National Power Development for the period of 2021 - 2030, with an orientation to 2050 (“Power Planning VIII”), creating a legal basis for investments in the development of power generation and grid projects in Vietnam.

Electricity production and import

According to the adjusted Power Plan VIII, the total electricity production and import output is expected to reach 650-624 billion kWh by 2030, 82-102% higher than in 2024. The electricity output growth target is to ensure supply to serve the average GDP growth of 10% in the 2026-2030 period. To achieve this target, the total electricity capacity target by 2030 is expected to reach 183-236 GW, an increase of 122-187% compared to 2024 and an increase of 16-49% (+25-78 GW) compared to the initial Power Plan VIII.

Demands for Investment Capital

To achieve the above targets on power generation and transmission, Vietnam needs to mobilize a huge amount of capital for investment in power sources and power grids.

Due to limited public investment resources, the private sector (including foreign investment) is expected to play a key role in investing in power generation projects in the coming periods./.
